

Evolve CEO Resignation

Alan Wham has resigned from his position as Chief Executive Officer of Evolve Education Group effective from 15 September 2017.

Alan has led Evolve through the initial public offering and the establishment of 126 early childhood education centres and two home-based operations.

Evolve thanks Alan for his service and wishes him well in his future endeavours.

Mark Finlay, former director and experienced early childhood sector operator will act as interim CEO until a replacement CEO has been appointed. Recruitment for the CEO position will commence immediately.

Yours faithfully

Alistair Ryan
Chair
